AUSTRIA READY FOR WILSON'S TERMS, DECLARES OFFICIAL

Give Decision First Degree Murder On Reprobate

VERDICT OF JURY SAYS TO HANG KEYES

SANTA ANA AVIATOR KILLED IN SMASH

OUTLINE OF AIMS FOR PEACE GIVEN

KEYES SOUND ASLEEP AT 11 THIS MORNING

This morning when an interview was attempted with Edward Keyes at the county jail it was found that he was sound asleep in his cell in the felony tank. "I don't want to talk to anybody," said he. "I haven't got anything to say to anybody."

And that was about all there was to the interview.

THREE OTHERS BEFORE HIM ORDERED HANGED

In Orange County Keyes is the fourth man found guilty of murder in the first degree with the penalty fixed at death.

None of the others was hanged. The first was Manuel Fellows, now living at San Juan Capistrano. On second trial Fellows got a sentence of life imprisonment. A few years ago he was paroled. He was convicted of killing a saloon-keeper at the mission town.

Rosario Saliz, smuggler and desperado, was convicted of murdering a sheepshearer near Sunset Beach. On second trial he got life imprisonment. He is at San Quentin.

Hombelo, who killed another Mexican near Los Alamitos, had his sentence commuted from death to life imprisonment. Recently efforts have been made to get parole for him.

U. S. TROOPS IN AUSTRIAN PEACE HOT ARTILLERY WITH BOCHES LAST NIGHT

HASTENED IN OPINION OF OFFICIALS

Colonel Gives Quick Order Resulting In Fierce Booming of Guns

BY J. W. PEGLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(Delayed.)—American and German artillery engaged in a terrific duel tonight. At the time this dispatch was written the numbers down on a note pad. Seizing another telephone he demanded connection with certain battery positions and repeated the numbers to them, with seemingly unfeigned instructions.

"It's urgent," he said, just before ringing off.

Quick Action
Two minutes later the American guns set the sky ablaze, venting their fury against the boche batteries.

Whole sprays and clusters of varied colored rockets and star shells shot up from the enemy trenches in a manner that indicated excitement in that direction. The signals and revealing lights hovered over No Man's Land, casting a weird glare over the tangle of weeds and wire. The horizon danced and writhed with giant caterpillars of fire as the Sammies loaded and fired their big guns from camouflaged concealment scattered along the countryside.

Occasional flashes of flame showed where the enemy shells were bursting, though the shell explosions were indistinguishable from the gun blasts in the roaring din.

President's Appeal Directed Directly to Friendly Tone Of Czernin's Response

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Congress and officialdom generally today felt that President Wilson's latest war aims speech will hasten the elimination of Austria from the war.

Austria, tired of the struggle and growing discontented at pulling German chestnuts from the fire, sooner or later will heed the President's broad-gauge proffer of a new chance at peace, authorities declare.

Austria is the main hope upon which the Wilson peace drive has been and is centered. The President's latest speech, based outwardly on the friendliness of the Czernin response to the January 8 message, was founded on reports of American workers abroad that Austria is ripe for peace.

As for Germany, the speech is destined to cause a new dissatisfaction among the liberals of the Scheide mann and more radical types. Continuance of the war is credited solely to the military party in Germany and this fact, plus Wilson's disclaimer of any territory wanted by the United States is likely to bore into the German mind.

Wilson distinctly left the peace door wider open than ever, authorities say, for he pointed out that his January 8 address contained the fundamental, but not unchangeable peace terms of the United States.

At the same time, he sounded a firmer note of confident determination to carry on the war to victory if the essentials of a just peace were not otherwise obtained. He pointed out significantly that whatever the delays have been American troops are now streaming across and will continue to do so increasingly.

Balkan statesmen agreed that a permanent Balkan peace—practically synonymous with European peace—could be possible only if the belligerents accepted unequivocally President Wilson's principles of self determination and self government.

Bulgarian Minister Panaretov was in Congress to hear the speech at the administration's invitation. The Serbian minister sat near by but did not speak.

Panaretov declared himself "in hearty accord" with President Wilson's proposals. The Rumanian attaché, Lieut. Stoica, thought the speech a wonderful offering to oppressed nationalities and a solution of the Balkan problems.

Germany of Berlin said it was the intention of the Austrian premier to prepare the ground for peace negotiations between Austria and the United States.

"We are confident," the paper says, "that such an attempt would not have been made without German consent."

Other Rome cables today pointed out that Germany dominates much of Austria's action. For instance, Austrian fliers taken prisoner told the Italians that the Austrian supreme command, at the pope's request, quit raiding Italy, but Germany caused resumption.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—President Wilson's reply to Hertling's and Czernin's peace program declarations was received satisfactorily by the few morning papers which commented on the address.

The News pointed out the significance of the address coming just before the expected parliamentary speeches of Lloyd George and Italian Premier Orlando.

While making no interpretative comment, the Mail carried the address under the headlines: "Strong hint toward Austria."

LT. EGBERT MCKEAN DEAD WHEN PLANE CRASHES ON GERSTNER FLYING FIELD

Gerstner Field, Lake Charles, February 11, 1918.

To Mrs. J. M. McKean, Santa Ana, Cal.

Your son, Lieutenant Jacob E. McKean, died as result of airplane accident about 5 p. m. today while on cross country flight at Jennings, Louisiana. Please inform if you desire remains shipped at government expense giving address.

GOODIER, Commanding.

The grim hand of war entered Santa Ana last night and today one Santa Ana home is mourning the loss of a son and brother, and many friends are grieving because of the death of a young man in the service of the United States. A brief dispatch received about 10 o'clock last night brought the sad news that Lieutenant Egbert McKean, son of Mrs. J. M. McKean of 701 Cypress avenue was killed when the airplane which he was operating crashed to the ground about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. The accident occurred on Gerstner Aviation Field, at Lake Charles, La.

Particulars of the fatal fall are very meager. Early reports merely indicated that McKean and Lieutenant Charles E. Cummings were operating the machine and that McKean was killed and Cummings received serious injuries.

A United Press dispatch received by the Register late this afternoon states that the aviators were flying over Jennings, La., and were seen to circle about the city for several minutes. They were observed by a large crowd. The machine suddenly was seen to swoop down and the crowd thought the flyers were just making an exhibition dive, but the plane continued to fall and crashed into the ground. The dispatch failed to state whether the local aviator was killed instantly or died as a result of the fall, as is indicated in the telegram received by the young man's mother.

Egbert McKean had been at the Louisiana aviation grounds but a short time. He left San Diego only three weeks ago. He was a graduate aviator and recognized as a man of particular ability in this branch of service. Local men who visited him at San Diego declare that he was one of the most skillful manipulators of an airplane that they saw in action at the training school there.

Howard Turner and Will Diets were guests of McKean about a month ago. Through his influence they were given permission to inspect the flying school at North Island. Turner stated today that everyone with whom he spoke talked in the most enthusiastic terms of McKean's ability. He finished his course with the highest possible honors and was being used as an instructor even before he had finished. Turner saw a letter of recommendation written for McKean by a French officer giving the highest possible statement of the ability of the local man. Those associated with him among his fellow students and later among his pupils testified to his high rank as an officer.

Most of Life Here
Egbert McKean had lived in Santa Ana since 1892. He was born in Crestline, Ohio, October 7, 1888. McKean spent all his early life here. He went to grammar school at Roosevelt school, and from there went to the high school. There he was prominent in every activity of the institution. He ranked high as an athlete, both in football and in baseball, was popular socially, and particularly well liked by all who knew him.

In 1908 McKean left Santa Ana and joined the navy. He was at this time in his senior year at high school. He was in the navy band, stationed for the most of the four-year period at San Francisco.

After completing his enlistment in the navy, McKean went into the employ of the Actna Insurance Company at San Francisco. He was claim agent for this company, and with headquarters in San Francisco, he traveled all over the northern part of the state.

Ready for Action
When the war broke out McKean could not stay out. Always anxious for action, quick to take the part of the right against the wrong, McKean enlisted last June on the side of his democracy, and immediately took up his training at the University of California.

After eight weeks at Berkeley he was transferred to San Diego to complete his training and graduated there from the aviation school. So marked was his ability while in training that for the next two months after his graduation he was kept at the San Diego camp as an instructor.

He had visited in Santa Ana several times recently. At a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce a few weeks ago McKean was a guest of honor at the same time that Lieutenant Frank L. Worden was the speaker of the day. Three weeks ago last Thursday, January 17, McKean left for the Louisiana camp.

Fred Kelly of Orange, world champion athlete, is also stationed at this camp.

McKean leaves a mother, a sister, Miss Helen, and a brother, Robert, in Santa Ana to mourn his loss. His oldest brother, Ralph, is an ensign in the navy, stationed at Gunison, Wash., at the present time. He has been in the service for about eighteen years. Two sisters are married and live elsewhere. Mrs. Faye Damore, at Oriskany, Cal., and Mrs. John F. Talbott, of Brooklyn, Iowa.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but the body will be brought here for burial.

Labor Classes Demand That Czernin Adhere to Program Announced By President

Special significance attaches to the following dispatch as it reveals conditions behind Count Czernin's speech to which President Wilson yesterday replied. This is the second of the series of dispatches revealing actual conditions in the central empires.—The United Press, New York.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1918, by the United Press)
ZURICH, Switzerland, Feb. 12.—Austrian workers, before taking up their tools following the recent strikes, did these three significant things:

Laid down conditions forcing Foreign Minister Czernin to adhere to the Wilsonian program.

Sent a delegation to Emperor Karl, who stated: "Peace is my only aim day and night."

Formed a permanent committee to maintain a watch on the government and force it to keep its promises.

The same causes which unchained the strike continue. Another and graver social disturbance is possible any day. The Austrians want peace and are opposed to dying for pan-German dreams of conquest.

READY FOR WILSON TERMS
I know for a fact that an Austrian official now in Switzerland declared Austria is ready to accept President Wilson's peace terms.

The Austrian rulers are afraid of the future, especially if the war continues. They have already had to back down to avoid trouble.

The strong, new Hungarian party plans a separate Hungarian army. The Karolyi party refuses to join the government party, because it wants an independent Hungary. The Tisza party is undecided.

The Czechs are suspicious toward Germany and have asked appointment of an Austro-Hungarian council to watch their interests from the peace conference. The pan-Germans are equally suspicious of their neighbors and are calling each other names.

But the masses of the countries feel the same—the cry of both peoples is for bread and peace.

Revolution Rampant
The bolshevik movement is rampant and growing in Austro-Hungary and the country is menaced by revolution and dismemberment. The monarchists are scarce as are the pan-Germans, who are keenly aware of events.

The Austrian bolsheviks are headed by Otto Bauer, who recently returned from Russia, where he was held a prisoner.

(Recent United Press dispatches from Petrograd stated the bolsheviks had decided to appoint Bauer their ambassador at Vienna.)

The movement is spreading rapidly among the Czechs, Jugo-Slavs and kindred races, who are demanding an immediate peace and liberty.

The recent strikes probably had nothing in common—the movement was spontaneous, admitting they surprised even them, who are still obediently a part of the government bloc.

The socialists assumed charge of the strikes and ordered the workers to return after 48 hours, the leaders saying they were not consulted by the strikers.

The fact is, Austria-Hungary is hard hit by the war. The people are suffering enormously.

When Fate Is Learned, He Licks the Edge of Cigarette Paper

TWELVE MEN REACH CONCLUSION QUICKLY

Scene In Courtroom One of Most Dramatic In History of County

THE JURY'S VERDICT
"County of Orange,
"State of California,
"People of the State of California,
vs.

"Edward S. Keyes.
"We, the jury in the above entitled case, find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree."

"O. H. BURKE, Foreman."
The twelve men who brought in a verdict for the hanging of Edward S. Keyes are E. N. Gage, Yorba Linda; John Lemke, Placentia; G. R. Smith, East First street; O. H. Burke, Tustin; W. L. Slatto, Tustin; George H. Mills, Garden Grove; J. W. Hetebrink, Fullerton; Wm. F. Feldner, Orange; Geo. McNeill, Buena Park; Charles H. Warner, Bolsa; James S. Tuffree, Placentia; Chas. L. Hanson, Placentia.

Edward S. Keyes, murderer of Leonard Herwick, is to be hanged. That was the verdict of the jury that tried Keyes. The verdict was brought in yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, forty minutes after the jury retired.

The verdict reads, "Guilty of murder in the first degree." That in itself carries with it the penalty of hanging. Judge West has no alternative but to pronounce the sentence of death.

Sentence will be passed at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning. Attorney Ingle Carpenter will take an appeal.

"I don't give a damn; I expected it," said Keyes.

Keyes took the verdict almost as a joke. When the jury filed in he rolled a cigarette, and he proceeded to complete the making of the cigarette as the foreman of the jury stood up and read the verdict that means that Keyes will hang.

Keyes was not surprised. When the jury was out he told Under Sheriff Iman that he expected that the jury would bring in a verdict of first degree murder, with hanging.

The reading of the verdict was one of the most dramatic scenes in the history of criminal trials in this county. While the jury had retired at 4:20 o'clock, and while scores of people had gone to their homes there remained enough people to crowd the courtroom.

Every person, excepting the officers of the court, was upon his feet. People crowded behind the rail as closely to the defendant as they dared. People stood upon seats. Others climbed upon tables and the courtroom railing. Each person was bent upon being in a position to watch the jury and to see the effect that the verdict would have upon the man on trial.

Keyes occupied the same chair that he has occupied ever since the trial commenced. During the trial he had slouched down upon his chair, feigning drowsiness. During the arguments yesterday he lay back as though sound asleep.

The jury had no sooner retired than a sudden change came over Keyes' demeanor. He straightened up in his chair, and took on a brightened appearance.

When the jury came in he sat between Sheriff Jackson and Under Sheriff Iman, neither of whom has

RAILROAD BILL PUTS CONGRESS INTO TURMOIL

BY L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The railroad control bill has again plunged Congress into a bitter fight over fair distribution of the war's financial burdens.

Lined up on one side is the determining group of men who last session fought for conscription of wealth to pay the tax bills. On the other side stand the same men who so strenuously opposed wealth conscription.

The issue is whether the railroads shall be made to bear a fair share of the war's burden, or whether the people must pay the railroads practically what they demand under Government control. Specifically, the battle is over the basis upon which the railroads shall be paid by the Government.

Senator Cummings, Iowa, and his supporters, insist that the roads should be guaranteed their ordinary dividend, plus interest on their debt.

This, Cummings says, would cost the Government $750,000,000 to $775,000,000 a year.

Senator Smith, South Carolina, leading the opposition, wants the income computed on three pre-war years—1915, 1916 and 1917. This, Smith estimates, will cost the Government from $945,000,000 to $975,000,000 a year.

The difference to the American people between Cummings' plan and Smith's is about $200,000,000 a year.

The three-year basis is that suggested by the President. Senator Smith declares it should be adopted, no matter what it costs.

"If we must pour out $200,000,000 a year to meet the demands of service, I am in favor of pouring out that, we may get efficient railroad operation."

Cummings is bitterly opposed to settling the question of compensation to the roads through a surrender to them. He declared today there is no reason Congress should not do "what is just and fair to the railroads and the public alike."

FRENCH ATTACK OVER WIDE FRONT REPORTED
PARIS, Feb. 12.—French reconnoissances over a wide front were reported by the war office today. North of Ailette and Bouville a number of enemy prisoners were taken, it is reported. West of Romnauville French troops penetrated the German lines and brought back a number of prisoners. Enemy forces attacked the French defenses near the Bezonvaux wood and took possession, following a heavy bombardment but were thrown back. German attacks in Champagne, Woivre and Vosges broke down.

NO MORE HENS FOR DINNER IS HOOVER EDICT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—No hens or pullets may be killed anywhere in the United States hereafter for food until April 30, according to an order received here today from Washington by the state food administrator.

Poultry already killed and en route to dealers for distribution may be sold until February 23, the order stated.

The object of the order was to obtain the largest possible supply of eggs during the early spring season.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Poultry wholesalers and receivers of New York today announced receipt of a United States Food Administration order fixing minimum wholesale prices for this city and vicinity as follows:

Thirty-six cents for fowls; 35 cents for chickens and young roosters; 27 cents for old roosters, and 35 cents for turkeys, ducks and geese.

Wholesale prices are being fixed in a similar manner regionally throughout the country, it is understood here.

MILLION FOOTBALLS ORDERED
PARIS, Feb. 12.—The French government has ordered one million footballs for the army to be delivered within seven months.

HUNTINGTON BEACH CITY DRAINAGE SYSTEM BEING COMPLETED AT BEACH

Soldier Boy Talks of Work of HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 12.—The city and the Pacific Electric Railway Company are putting in a system of drainage at the foot of Main street across the railroad to the beach, using 24-inch sewer tiling as the drainage of a large territory dumps all the water at this point.

After the drainage system is completed the passage across the railroad to the pier will be concreted with an asphaltum surface, beginning on the south side of Ocean avenue. This has been a long needed improvement to shut out the dust and cover up the unsightly appearance at this point.

J. T. Harris of Sawtelle, agent for the California Canning Company of Los Angeles, with his wife, was in the city Monday on business. The plant of the company is located at Sawtelle and Mr. Harris travels over the country contracting fruit and vegetables and their trucks gather them up during the different parts of the season.

Tom Cod Plentiful
During the past few days everybody who cared to fish has been catching large quantities of Tom-cod. One fellow caught 106 Saturday morning and they seem to be pretty good sized.

Forest C. Turner, son of M. A. Turner, who is on a furlough to visit his parents and friends before starting for France, gave a very interesting talk at the M. E. church Sunday evening on the subject, "The Y. M. C. A. and What It Is Doing at the Cantonments." According to Mr. Turner's statements the Y. M. C. A. comes nearer filling the needs of the boys in camp than any other religious organization. Mr. Turner also sang a beautiful solo entitled "Come to Me." Sergeant Turner will leave tomorrow for Camp Johnston, Florida, from which place he expects soon to enter the service in France.

The high school boys in general will entertain the fathers of the student body at the high school building Friday evening of this week.

Plan Boat Landing
The Chamber of Commerce at their meeting recently discussed the subject of a boat landing at the outer pier. A committee was appointed to take the subject up with the city council and see if a landing could not be arranged in some way so fishing boats might land here.

Wm. C. O'Connor, now with the Huntington Beach Company, has made application to the government for the position of assistant business manager in the ordinance department of the War Department. This position pays a salary of $1800 per year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Scott has sold out her restaurant in the pavilion to C. S. Scott of Colorado, who will assume control from today on.

S. W. Price of Bolsa was in the city Monday.

W. M. Hodge has rented the Roy Parker building next to Judge Warner's office and will carry on a second-hand store and repair shop along the line of furniture and anything that needs repairing about the house.

S. E. Hearn was in Los Angeles today on business.

Walter Young transacted business in Los Angeles Monday.

WOMAN CHASES 2 MEN WITH GUNS HUNT BOLD BURGLAR

Mrs. W. V. Whitson Surprises Thief In Front Room of Her Residence

With a woman hot on his trail for a few minutes at 5:30 yesterday evening, and two men with guns looking for him about 9:30 last night, Santa Ana's honored guest of the light fingered class had some uncomfortable experiences in his operations in the city last evening.

Mrs. W. V. Whitson, 1108 North Main, surprised him in a front room at her home about 5:30, and at 9:30 P. G. Beissel, 218 South Main, and a Mr. Smith, with guns in hand, searched the neighborhood for him for about half an hour, with officers assisting.

Mrs. Whitson was sitting in the kitchen reading the Register when she heard the door on the south side of the residence open and a few minutes later noise in the front room. She did not pay much attention to the opening of the door, believing that her little nephew, Oris Dawson, had come into the house. When she heard the noise in the room, she walked toward the room and through an open door saw a man. He also saw her and darted for the door through which he had entered.

He ran in a stooping position and Mrs. Whitson did not get a good view of him because the room was dark. She can give no description of him. The burglar had to pass through the reception hall and into the sitting room to reach the door, and he lost no time in doing this. Mrs. Whitson followed quickly but when she arrived at the door the man had completely disappeared, and she did not see which way he ran. Mrs. Whitson didn't faint. Neither did she scream when she saw the man in the house. She walked right into the room after he left it, and when she did so she did not know whether the burglar had hidden in the room or gone out. She did not hear the door close after him. The rooms were dark and she could not see clearly. He wore no mask so far as she could tell.

He had just gotten into the house, when he was interrupted by Mrs. Whitson. He went through a drawer of a table in the reception hall but got nothing.

At the Beissel Home
Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Beissel were at a local theater last night, and shortly after their return home, about 9:30, a Mr. Smith, who has apartments at the Curtis Apartments, noticed a man standing at a corner of the house. The man walked toward the garage at the rear of the Beissel residence, and Smith slipped around the front way to the Beissel home and informed them of what he had seen. Mr. and Mrs. Beissel were just preparing to retire.

Beissel grabbed a shot gun. Smith had armed himself with a revolver. The two men went forth into the darkness in search of the intruder, and had they got a glimpse of him there would have been a bombardment that would have caused residents of the neighborhood to have believed that a German air raid was in progress in Santa Ana.

A gate between the back yards of Dr. R. E. Whitted and L. M. Forey was found open and it is believed the man made his exit through it.

Mrs. Dora Spangler has a Scare
Mrs. Dora Spangler, 638 North Birch street, had a fright a few nights ago, when a man walked into her house about 1 o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Spangler did not hear the man step up on the porch, but when he opened the screen to the front door she heard him. Her bedroom is near the front door and she called to him asking what he wanted. He said nothing. When she told him to get out, he answered, "All right," and departed. It was a bright moonlight night and as he left the house she looked out through the bedroom window. The man was in his shirt sleeves. Mrs. Spangler believed that the man was drunk and had entered her house by mistake, and made no report of the incident to the police officers.

"I have lived here for years, and this is the first time I have ever been disturbed," said Mrs. Spangler this morning. "I have never locked my doors, and never have felt the least bit afraid. However, since my experience with this man, I lock my doors."

A Bold Man
If the series of burglaries and attempts at burglary in this city in the past three or four weeks have been the result of activities of one man, he certainly is some bold thief. And he is quite a lucky fellow, too. "A fool for luck" man and luck has been with him in his operations. That he has no fear has been demonstrated by the fact that in one instance he entered a residence where a number of people were assembled and has tried to effect an entrance at other places while members of the household were entertaining guests.

At E. B. Burns Home
Mrs. E. B. Burns, 916 Spurgeon, informed officers last night that someone tried to get in the front door of her residence at 9:30 Sunday night, using a key.

Thought Heard Burglar
Officers Smithwick and John Ryan investigated a call last night from the F. W. Fuller home, 1402 Bush, stating that someone was in the house. The officers found a light burning, but no evidence that a burglar had been there.

IF IT'S A CASE OF BEANS, DRAPER IS DEMANDING ATTENTION

Farmer Draws Comparison Between His Son and Fred Bixby's Foreman

"If Fred Bixby's foreman, who produces 1230 sacks of beans and 126 tons of hay gets exempted, my boy, who helps produce 1829 sacks of beans and 700 tons of sugar beets ought to be exempted, too."

It was R. L. Draper of Smeltzer who furnished some of the fireworks at the appeal draft board hearing at the courthouse last night. James Draper, his son, had put in an agricultural claim. He has had three years' training in a military academy. Dr. Ball said he did not think James could pass the physical examinations because he has two homes in one foot broken.

"Why would you want to stay on a farm when you can go to war, see the world and help kill the enemy?" asked C. C. Chapman, member of the draft board of No. 2 district.

Dr. Ball said that he would recommend that Draper be placed in Class E1, unskilled farm laborer.

Then came forward the father. He said that he had seen in the paper where Ernest R. Johnson, a foreman for Fred Bixby, was allowed his agricultural claim when he was not producing as much as the Draper ranch.

"I want my boy to do his part, and he probably will try to get into the service right away," said Draper, "but when it comes to allowing exemption claims, I don't see but what Fred Bixby can hire a new foreman just as well as I can hire a man to take my son's place. My son drives a tractor, in addition to helping run the place."

It was pointed out that Clyde Bishop, Government attorney, who had recommended that Johnson's claim be allowed was not present. Dr. Ball made a notation for comparison later.

Belgians May Go
The agricultural claims of two Los Alamitos Belgians will be recommended by Dr. Ball for denial. Rene D. Boofjens grows 280 acres of beets. He has a brother in the Belgian army. He does not know where his father, who was in Belgium, now is.

"Don't you think you ought to fight for your native country and your adopted country?" asked Dr. Ball. "If everyone in Belgium and in this country took the view you do, you would be a slave."

Leonard Vlaschaert, beet grower, had much the same claim.

Representatives of the sugar industry at Los Alamitos said these two men understand the land they are farming and can get better crops off the ranches than some others might.

"I'll leave it to the appeal board."

ORANGE COUNTY LEADS SOUTH ON INCOME REPORTS

Collections by Cornelius Here Have Averaged $2000 Per Day Recently

Santa Ana has a big bunch of income tax payers and John P. Carter, internal revenue collector, has decided to continue W. A. Cornelius in Santa Ana until the first of March, instead of sending him to Orange to collect taxes there. According to a statement of Carter at the Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles, Orange county is leading the southern part of the state in income tax returns.

"I find that the people of this vicinity are patriotic and loyal," declared Cornelius this morning. "They are not slackers in the matter of reporting their incomes, and as a result this county today is leading all the rest in making reports."

"For the past week or two I have been sending in to the Los Angeles office an average of $2000 per day in cash. Instead of the number of people reporting to my office growing less as the time approached for closing the office here, it became larger. I explained this feature to Collector Carter and he came to the conclusion that I had better remain here until the first of March."

"This is one of the sources the Government has for raising money immediately and no one who has a taxable income should delay making a report. It will have to come sooner or later, and just as well be attended to at this time as later. Those reporting after the first of March will have to pay a penalty."

A number of local residents have paid a tax of $1000 or over.

Because the Government has been delayed in providing blanks for excess profits, corporations and large income taxes the time for making reports on such has been extended from the first of March to the first of April.

CONFIRM REPORT DEMOBILIZATION

Declare Russians Will Not Continue Struggle on German, Austrian Workers

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Official confirmation of Russia's withdrawal from the war was received here today through a wireless press bureau dispatch from Petrograd.

"The Russian delegates have declared the Brest Litovsk peace negotiations ended," declared the dispatch. "Demobilization of the Russian armies has been ordered."

"Some first line detachments of younger soldiers have been left to defend the frontiers."

The official proclamation declares the Russians will not continue the war against the German and Austrian workers and will not sign an annexationist treaty.

"Let the German and Austrian soldiers know who is placing them in the field and for what they are fighting; also that we refused to fight them," declared the proclamation, which was signed by Foreign Minister Trotsky.

The demobilization proclamation orders immediate withdrawal from the trenches and concentration of troops in the rear for transportation to the interior.

Bring Home Supplies
It begs the soldiers to await the return homeward calmly and appeals to them to bring with them stores and artillery which cost millions.

"Comrades, peace negotiations are ended," the proclamation stated, "German capitalists, bankers and landlords, supported by the silent co-operation of the English and French middle classes, submitted conditions such as couldn't be subscribed to by the Russian revolution."

"The governments of Germany and Austria desire to possess countries and peoples vanquished by arms."

"We could not sign a peace bringing sadness and oppression and suffering to millions of workers—but we cannot and will not continue a war begun by the czar's capitalists."

Constant Sufferer Finds Relief
—"I have been a constant sufferer from kidney trouble and three months ago was down sick in bed for my back ached so severely I couldn't get up," writes C. F. Reynolds, 412 Herrick St., Elmira, N. Y. "While in this condition we read of Foley Kidney Pills, so I commenced taking them. In a few days I was up out of bed. Foley Kidney Pills strengthen kidneys and bladder. Recommended for backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints. Rowley Drug Co."

S. F. OFFICIALS READY TO START CLEAN-UP

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—City officials today planned to carry out their promise made to military authorities that they would protect soldiers and sailors stationed in this vicinity by cleaning up vice conditions and by preventing sale of liquor to uniformed men.

Threats by U. S. Commissioner Krull in court and by western army department authorities at a conference in Mayor Ralph's office that the government might close all saloons within five miles of military posts in the vicinity, brought the vice question to a head. Mayor Ralph told the army officers the entire force of the city would be turned to a "clean-up" campaign.

LOVES SANTA ANA BUT—NOT HOME UNTIL AFTER THE WAR

Walter Reeves Considers It a Blessing to Live In This City

To live in Santa Ana is a great blessing, writes Walter Reeves, but he doesn't want to live here until after the war is over—he wants to stay with the fight until the end.

This is the sentiment he expressed in a letter written to Mrs. Wm. E. Otis, a member of the Northside Red Cross auxiliary, in acknowledgment of Yuletide packages sent by them.

The letter was written from Base Hospital No. 21, France, on January 5, and is as follows:

Base Hospital No. 21, France, Jan. 5, 1918.

Mrs. Wm. E. Otis, 1330 North Main street, Santa Ana, Calif.

Dear Mrs. Otis and members of the Northside Red Cross Auxiliary:

I have always said that it is a privilege to be from Santa Ana, but now I say it is a blessing. The two packages sent by the Northside Red Cross Auxiliary arrived a couple of days after Christmas. A plain thanks does not seem to fully express my appreciation—however, will say just plain thanks and trust you will accept it in its fullest sense.

Sugar and chocolates, by the way, are always welcome over here; not so much as a necessity as a highly desirable and very acceptable luxury. As a luxury sugar is almost as scarce as fresh Plymouth Rock eggs or California oranges.

If there is anything at any time that I want, I shall certainly let you know about it. Just now I do not know of anything I could conscientiously ask for—for myself or other members of the unit. Being a base hospital, we are, I believe, better fixed than men in other branches of the service.

This hospital is one of the first six American hospitals to arrive in France.

We are at the present time loaned to the British government and accordingly are under some of their army rules and regulations, probably gaining there some of their privileges and, at the same time losing some of our own. We are one of a group of hospitals located about one hundred miles back of the trenches.

These hospitals are run by the Australians, Scotch, English and Americans. Another American unit, the Cleveland unit, is in this vicinity. Being so far from the front line trenches we do not consider ourselves in much danger from the "home" enemy.

"Bacteria," our most dangerous enemy is rather of the genus "Bacteria."

We receive all sorts of sick and wounded cases from quite a stretch of the British line—amputations, broken bones, shrapnel and bullet wounds, burns, gas and otherwise, and trench feet are among the list of troubles. The latter (trench feet) seem to be the most fashionable trouble this season. After experiencing the after-effects of spending a couple of nights in wet shoes recently, I can readily see how trench feet are contracted and certainly sympathize with the person who has them.

Trench feet is the term applied to a severe case of chilblains, something which one does not have to contend with in sunny California. How I would like to be there—after the war.

Please accept my thanks and best wishes.

Very sincerely,
W. S. REEVES.

THIEVES TAKE FINE BIG TEAM

Sheriff and Deputies Search For Property Stolen Last Night

Last night thieves stole a team of horses and a wagon from U. H. Pavan, two miles northeast of Huntington Beach, and used the wagon to haul away sixteen sacks of beans stolen from the warehouse on the P. E. near Pavan's place.

The thieves took their time. From several herds of horses in a corral they picked the two best, fine blacks, each weighing around 1500 pounds, one a gelding and the other a mare.

In the barn they picked out the best harness, worth $100, and fitted the collars to the horses. They hitched up to a wagon, upon the flat bed of which was piled a load of cauliflower.

They drove off across a field, and as they went they dumped off the cauliflower. At the warehouse, which is located near a corner of Pavan's land, they broke in and carried out sixteen sacks of beans worth $12 apiece. Returning, the wagon went by the front of Pavan's place. Under Sheriff Iman tracked it northward to a point where it turned off the Westminster road toward Garden Grove.

Sheriff Jackson is out in the north end of the county searching for the outfit. Pavan is satisfied that the thieves were familiar with his place and with his stock, for a collar for one of the horses was picked out from a number at one end of the barn and taken to the other, where the rest of the harness was.

TEACH MEXICAN WOMAN RULES OF HEALTH

Home Nurse Is Appointed—Segregate Class at Lincoln School

At a meeting of the Santa Ana school board last night, Mrs. Oberlin Rodriguez of 719 East Second street was elected as a home nurse. Her duties will be to visit mothers of Mexican children, and teach them things that they ought to know concerning health and sanitation, and to advise with them in regard to the care of their children.

This work is considered important as through the mothers it is hoped to remedy some of the conditions that have made the presence of Mexican children among Americans undesirable.

Miss Josie Ehlers of Santa Ana was elected as a teacher at Lincoln school. Recently the number of Mexican children attending that school has increased, and a segregation in some of the grades will take place. A separate room for Mexican children will be in charge of Miss Ehlers. Miss Ehlers is a graduate of the Los Angeles Normal.

Miss Schultz, graduate of the University of California, was elected librarian at the high school. She takes the place of Ralph Beals, who is now in the army library at Deming, N. M.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Sick, Feverish, Constipated

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt—Adv.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. T. F. McDonnell Victim of Clever Plans of Friends on Saturday Evening

Making an engagement to meet Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Silkwood, so as to accompany them on a shopping trip Saturday evening, Mrs. T. F. McDonnell of West Pine street and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Whitford, were just ready to leave the house, when a telephone message asked them to go to the Silkwood home.

The house being all in darkness with the exception of the kitchen, the party entered that way, when the lights were flashed on and Mrs. McDonnell found herself the center of a laughing group of friends and relatives who showered her with hearty congratulations, the occasion being her birthday.

The rooms of the Silkwood home were prettily decorated with fragrant heliotrope and many useful gifts were presented to the honored guest.

After a merry evening of sociability, Mrs. Silkwood, assisted by Mrs. Whitford, served delectable refreshments of cocoa, sandwiches, pickles and cakes. ORGAN MUSIC

Delightful, Instructive Program Rendered at Ebell Section's Meeting

The music section of the Ebell club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. A. Winbiger. Miss Charlotte Dresser had charge of the subject for the afternoon and read an exceedingly interesting and instructive paper on "Organ Music of America," using as illustrations drawings which she had made herself of very primitive organs.

She also played a gavotte in F major by J. Warren Andrews.

Mrs. Emmeline Lord, accompanied by Earl Fraser, followed with fine renditions of "Fear Not Ye, O Israel," by Dudley Buck and Moszkowski's beautiful song "Springtime of Love." Mr. Fraser also played two exquisite numbers by Chopin, the latter one in response to an encore, and Mrs. Dietz of Los Angeles accompanied everyone with her artistic singing of "Spring's Awakening," by Dudley Buck, and "Far From My Heavenly Home" by Neidlinger, also by request "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan.

It was a very delightful program and very much enjoyed by the members of the section and their friends.

Little Miss May Maag made the hit of the evening by reciting "Little Jack Horner" and singing "Oh, Johnny, Oh."

WALTER REEVES TELLS OF TRIP INTO PARIS

Letters Are Received From Santa Ana Who Is In France

The following letters were received by Mrs. H. H. Reeves from her son, Walter, who is with the St. Louis Hospital unit in France:

Base Hospital No. 21, Jan. 12, 1918.

My Dear Folks:—I have so much to write about this time that I do not know just where to start. The reason is that I have been to Paris, that wonderful city, for three short but exceeding full days. One does not begin to see France until he has seen Paris and then he is inclined to feel as the old saying suggests: "See Paris and there die." I suppose I liked it so well there because the life and all is such a contrast to that which we see here. Moreover, the feeling of freedom and independence is so much different than the feeling one has when on duty and subject to call most any time of day or night.

Well to tell you about Paris! I had expected to go on January 24, 25 and 26, as I wrote in a previous letter, but the leaves were shoved up several days so that I went instead, on the 9th, 10th and 11th. This was very fortunate for me, because as it was I found Carl Wheat there—he is scheduled to leave tomorrow, so it was only by a narrow margin of five days that I saw him at all. It was a treat to see him after such a long time away from Pomona people or even California people, and some way or other there don't seem to be anybody like them.

You have perhaps heard of some of the work the Y. M. C. A. is doing over here. Well, I can now vouch for some of it at least for we stopped at the Hotel de Pavillon, the hotel in Paris which was taken over by the Y. M. C. A. and fitted up to accommodate the American soldiers on leave in Paris. My room cost only 6 francs per day (about $1.00 and about the highest priced room) had electric light, good heat, hot and cold running water, good furniture, and one of the softest beds in the world and last but not least, clean sheets and white bedspread. Did you ever have that luxurious experience of waking up among good surroundings after a good night's sleep and realizing that you can either get up or turn over and sleep again just as long as you please. I experienced it the first morning in Paris, but I chose to get up early for all the sights of the city remained to be seen and I wanted to see as much as possible in the limited time allotted.

You might be interested to know of the ride to Paris and then I can proceed in chronological order. We went first class. The American private is allowed many privileges which the private in other armies do not seem to have—they also assume many privileges and I am afraid often overstep the bound of propriety and sometimes even decency. There is no doubt too many overbearing and boastful Americans who misinterpret the real American attitude and will not doubt leave with many of our allied friends a bad impression of the American. They are usually the ignorant and loud, whom we tolerate at home because we understand what they are—well, I am getting away from the theme of my letter and I will not finish.

Livesey's

ish the criticism I started except to say that I have sometimes felt very ashamed of some of the things our boys have done or said, knowing they do not represent, as their editorial "we" would leave one to believe, the real American. However, as I say, our enlisted men have many privileges, granted or assumed, which the others do not have and it is the good old spirit of democracy which makes it seem that they should be entitled to the best if they want it and can pay for it. Thus, although it is requested that enlisted men ride second class, we rode first class. It was not the proper thing to do, of course, for such requests are made for the best interests of all and even in the states we wouldn't want some of the "box car artists" or their friends to ride in a Pullman and just that much less would it be desirable over here where there is class distinction. The fact remains, without apologies to anyone, that we rode first class. Now a first class apartment is very good, better than I expected. The cars here are small, just as they are in England. Each coach has about six compartments, four of which hold six people, an individual and comfortable seat for each, and two compartments which hold seven people, one of these being a smoking compartment. The seats are upholstered in pearl gray cloth with some of an openwork twill (very neat) for the head. There is a wash room and a toilet in each coach. The carriages are indeed very neat. The first class coaches are connected so that one can pass from one compartment to the other. In addition to the end doors of the coach there are side doors for each compartment off from a common gangway which provides communication for the compartments.

It is getting so dark I must close for now. It seems as though every cloud over here is full of snow or rain—it is just starting to snow again.

Jan. 13, 1918.

Dear Folks:—I just mailed a first installment about my leave to Paris. I am going to assume you receive it alright and start in here where I left off in the other letter.

We arrived in Paris about noon. There were quite a few American soldiers there from several branches of the service. We took dinner at the Y. M. and I separated from the rest, hoping to find Carl Wheat at the hospital at Nevilly sur la Seine, where he was driving an ambulance the last I had heard from him about four months ago. He had been transferred however and only after some difficulty I found he had been transferred to the aviation department and finally obtained his address. I found him about 4 o'clock, in the meantime seeing quite a little of the city by street car, taxis, etc. Carl has a splendid position along his line of work, that is clerical work, and is really right in the center of things. He is expecting a commission when he will be sworn into the army. I took supper with him at his boarding house, a "pension" as they call it. This was about the first chance I had had to really be in a French house among French people whose positions and occupations in life correspond to those of ourselves and friends. After supper we attended the National Opera House, the "Theatre National de l'Opera Comique," which is a theater run by the government and it is here where the famous operas of Paris are heard. We heard Le Roi d'Ys from a legend of old Normandy and Brittany. Of course I could not understand a great deal but enough to follow the theme and the music was simply great.

The next day we tried to take in some of the historic sights of Paris, seeing the Louvre, the great museum and art gallery where the famous masterpieces hang, or at least hung. It was rather disappointing that the place was closed on account of the war, many of the best things having been removed when the Germans were so close to Paris in 1914. It must have been exciting in Paris at that time, for the Germans were within fifteen or twenty miles of the city. The soldiers were rushed to meet them; traveling by means of the 10,000 taxis which are in Paris and were mobilized for that purpose. I think Paris must surely be the greatest taxicab city in the world. They are thicker than "hitties" in Los Angeles. These and the omnibuses furnish the chief means of surface travel, there are relatively few surface street cars or "tram cars." The taxis are very reasonable and happened to be almost indispensable to us, for if one gets lost, a thing which is very easy to do in Paris, all one has to do is to hail a taxi and give him your address. You also have to give him a tip. As a matter of fact there are very few whom you do not have to tip and if you ever accidentally on purpose fail to comply with the custom they do not hesitate to remind you by saying, "Something for me" or "service." Even in the theatres the girl who shows you your seat expects a couple of pennies. The customary tip, for the American at least, is ten per cent and you always have to add that much to your bill wherever you go.

Well, from the Louvre we walked to the "Place de Concorde" (a large square on which several of the government buildings, the American Red Cross headquarters, etc., face. All such "squares" have statues, monuments, etc. This particular "Place" has eight statues representing the eight principal cities of France. There is one of particular interest, namely, the monument to the city of Strasbourg. Ever since the Germans took Alsace-Lorraine of which Strasbourg is the principal city, this statue has been draped in black—at the beginning of this war, however, it was removed.

J. O. Hayes to Be Candidate Tells Governorship Platform

J. O. Hayes of San Jose, former congressman and one of the owners of the San Jose Mercury, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor. A syllabus of his platform follows:

The affairs of the state must be so conducted as to aid the national government in every possible way to carry on the war to a successful conclusion. No return must be made to old conditions in state administration. The advances made during the past eight years should be preserved and perfected while the defects are corrected or eliminated.

The expenses of state government should be materially reduced. Further changes in our fundamental law should be made, or preferably, a new constitution should be adopted. But this work should wait the close of the war when the best thought of the state now largely engrossed in war work can be given to these problems. Additional state aid should be given in solving the problems of food production and distribution.

Where women do the work of men and produce equal results they should be paid equal compensation. I strongly favor a system of invalid and old age insurance. No expense to the state on this account should be incurred until the end of the present war, but there should be begun at an early date a thorough investigation of all the plans of invalid and old age insurance now in operation in any of the states and of all foreign systems.

ning of this war, however, crepe was removed and instead the statue was decorated with flags and flowers which have been kept fresh ever since. This square is also of interest because it was here that the guillotine which cut off some 2000 heads during the French revolution, was placed. From here we went to Des Invalides where Napoleon is buried and where there is, at the present time, a great many relics of the present war—such as aeroplane guns, cannon, etc.

Well, I cannot begin to tell all we saw during this sight seeing expedition. I went to supper with Carl Wheat again on this evening and later went to a show. The next day, and the last, we took in Notre Dame, the Pantheon, which corresponds to Westminster Abbey in London, then the Latin quarter and several other places of interest. We did this in the morning. In the afternoon we took the trip to Versailles and saw one of the most interesting and instructive sights of the whole trip, the palace of Louis XIV, called the "abysms of expense and the tomb of anarchy." This is misquoted, I am afraid, but there is too much noise about here to concentrate on what I am writing. The building of the palace and the ground took about 36,000 men and 6,000 horses twenty-four years to build and I do not wonder much. I had expected to see an old castle half in ruins, instead the outside looked almost as modern as any up-to-date building in Paris. And the inside is magnificent beyond description. The whole is lined with marble, all wood is hand carved, there are paintings and statues, tapestries galore. I've never seen anything like it, and all the most interesting because of its historic significance. It was here that Marie Antoinette made her speech to the mob. We had only an hour and a half to see all for our train to Paris left at 3 o'clock and we had to take this one for we had to leave Paris at 5 o'clock.

Well, I haven't begun to tell you all but that is impossible. I hope we will have another chance to go to Paris—and I have no doubt we will, for the war isn't over yet.

I am going to send you post cards from time to time. Let me know if they get through. Hope you had a good Christmas.

TROOPS RAID GERMAN DEFENSES SAYS HAIG

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Manchester troops successfully raided German defenses west of La Bassée yesterday evening, "inflicting many casualties at slight cost," and captured seven prisoners and a machine gun, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

A hostile raiding party was driven off northeast of Epehy last night.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND AGREE ON PALESTINE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—That France and England are in agreement concerning the establishment of a national home for the Jewish people in Palestine was affirmed today by Foreign Minister Pichon in Paris, according to an official dispatch. M. Pichon gave the assurance to M. Sokolow, the representative of the Zionist organizations.

G. O. P. HEADS TO PLAN POLICIES OF CAMPAIGN

Attempt to Regain Control of House of Representatives Ranks First In Order

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 12.—Plans, policies and personalities around which the Republican party will wage its fight next fall to win control of the House of Representatives, were to be threshed out at a rally meeting of the Republican National Committee here tonight.

Resignation of Chairman Wilcox to accept a post on Director General McAdoo's new wage board, has precipitated a hot fight for the committee chairmanship.

Candidates are: A. T. Hert, of Kentucky, John T. King of Connecticut, committee members, John T. Adams, vice-chairman, and W. H. Hays, state chairman for Indiana.

Liberals frankly said unless the party adopts a more "modernistic" stand, its political future is dim. World conditions, they point out, point surely to greater liberalism.

Conservatives, at the same time, saw great popular support in what they termed a more "safe and sane" policy—with less disruption of the business status quo.

A treasurer was to be chosen also by the committee.

Just what part, if any, Roosevelt was likely to play in the discussions appeared problematic. That policies adopted for the fall campaign will be framed with a broad view to the 1920 presidential campaign, was assured.

Harmony of the closest possible character will be sought. Conservatives and progressives, initial skirmishes over, were expected to bury all differences in a common purpose.

One momentous question up for decision was just how far Republicans can go in open criticism of the war administration.

JACK OF ALL TRADES SAYS QUESTIONNAIRE

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 11.—Return of questionnaires have shown that Uncle Sam has every occupation well represented within the ranks of his potential soldiers. But when it comes to versatility, no one has it on James Hardesty. Regarding his occupational experience, he listed:

New-boy, messenger boy, farmer, haffed worker, fruit picker, teamster and mule skinner, sewing machine repair man, bicycle, motorcycle and automobile mechanic, florist, hod-carrier, sideshow Barker, watchman, steel shipyard worker, swimming instructor, pipetter, waiter, concrete worker, watchman, automobile assembler, cook, plumber, movie and cabaret singer, railroad worker and electrician's assistant. Hardesty waived deferred classification rights.

WALK CONTRACT LET TO JETTY BUILDER

Newport News: Passing Resolution No. 91, the board of trustees at their meeting held Monday evening in the city hall, awarded the contract to construct the boardwalk on pile bents at Balboa, to William Ledbetter, the man who is constructing the Newport Harbor Jetty. His bid was $4.95 per lineal foot, being 68½ cents lower than the highest bidder.

The bid of Smith, Booth, Usher Company of Los Angeles, to supply the city with an engine for the pumping plant was accepted and as soon as the foundation is constructed the new engine will be installed. At an additional cost of $110 the new motor will be equipped with a compressed air self-starting device which will make it ready for pumping on a moment's notice and with the least possible delay in starting.

A petition was presented to the board of trustees asking that 26th street be opened from Bay avenue to Newport avenue and that grade crossing be established across the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific tracks. The Newport Beach Lumber Company is the owner of all the lots that would be involved in securing the right of way for the extension of the street and it agrees to grant to the city a permanent easement for the street if the board saw fit to proceed with the opening.

A telegram was received from the State Board of Control, stating that the state would buy the balance of the jetty bonds, amounting to about $25,000 at par and accrued interest. City Clerk J. Royal Lemon was instructed to accept the offer for the city.

A letter was written from J. W. Burns, industrial agent for the Southern California Edison Company, stating that because of the length of the extension, high price of material and financial conditions, it would be impossible for the company at the present time to give the residents of Newport Heights within the city limits electricity for street lighting. Trustee Greeley suggested that the city supply gas street lights for the Heights. Gas Manager Frank Rinehart was instructed to go into the matter and find out if the suggestion would be feasible.

City Clerk Lemon reported that he had secured the names of all the Newport Beach boys serving in the army for Uncle Sam and had obtained all of their addresses with the exception of Giles Stansbury.

Ordinance No. 139, requiring the repairing of sidewalks within the city where faulty or damaged, was placed upon final passage and adopted by the board. In connection with this ordinance, James A. Porter suggested that if the city required damaged walks to be repaired by the property owners it should also pass an ordinance prohibiting the use of heavily loaded trucks upon them, which suggestion resulted in the City Attorney being asked to draft such a measure.

City Clerk Lemon was instructed to advertise for sale the $50,000 channel bonds. The contract with the Westinghouse Lamp Company, of Los Angeles, for electrical supplies was renewed by the board for another year. Trustee George P. Wilson presented a resolution to the board asking that the street commonly known as Newport avenue, extending from 19th street to the Santa Ana river bridge, be changed and named Central avenue, and that Bay avenue from 30th street to 38th street, and Lake avenue from 36th street to the Santa Ana river be changed to Coast boulevard and to be known as such. The entire board approved of the changes and put the matter in the hands of the City Attorney for the proper legal preparation.

W. K. Barnard, the jetty engineer, was present at the meeting and told the board that at the present rate of receiving rock, he estimated the work on the jetty would be completed in six weeks. There are approximately 20,000 tons yet to be placed in the jetty and at the present average of fifteen cars a day, it would take a little more than a month before the last car of rock is dumped. In behalf of the contractor, Mr. Barnard requested an extension of time of sixty days to complete the work, as, according to the contract between the city and Mr. Ledbetter, the time limit was up on January 19.

ADD TEACHER AT LINCOLN FOR SPANISH PUPILS

Short Period Scholars Assembled For Instruction By Miss Josie Eiler

There are two rooms today at the Lincoln school given over exclusively to Spanish children. Miss Josie Eiler last night was appointed by the Board of Education to teach one of the rooms, and today Spanish children in various grades and some in the Spanish room taught by Mrs. Ralph Trees were assembled in the library, with Miss Eiler in charge. There are twenty-five in the new room, and Mrs. Trees has about thirty in her room.

There are a number of Mexican children who enter school late and quit early to engage in ranch work. They fall behind in their studies as a result, and it is this class of students that have been assembled for instruction by Miss Eiler. The room will be maintained for two or three months until the number of Spanish pupils is reduced by their withdrawal to take up farm work.

SPLIT IN G. O. P. OVER CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE

Anti-Adams Leaders Spring Letter Alleging Disloyal Statements About U. S.

BY L. C. EARNIST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12.—Dawn of Lincoln's birthday found the national committee of Lincoln's party face to face with a bitter struggle.

After two days of earnest endeavor to unite on a candidate for a chairman acceptable to all elements of the party, it seemed almost certain today that the supporters of John T. Adams of Iowa, and the faction opposed to him, must carry their battles to the committee floor. In the small hours of the morning it was announced at Adams' headquarters that he positively will be a candidate when the committee meets this afternoon. There were predictions, however, that he would withdraw at the last moment because of an attack upon his Americanism.

Opposing the Iowan will be Will H. Hays of Indiana, unless there is a sudden shift in the plans of the Adams contingent.

A letter written by Adams during a tour of Germany three months after the outbreak of the European war, was read before the party's executive committee late yesterday by Senator Calder of New York. It indicated, anti-Adams members of the committee asserted, that Adams entertained at that time a friendly sentiment toward Germany.

Confusion Aroused
The letter threw the national committee into confusion. The restraint that had marked the deliberations of the committeemen was swept away in a moment. The last hope of harmony was dispelled.

Adams and his backers withdrew at once to their headquarters and did not attend the joint conference of the national and advisory committees that followed the executive committee meeting. As a result the conference developed a distinct Hays atmosphere.

After being closeted with his advisers several hours, Adams voiced defiance to his opponents in a statement defending his Americanism. He charged George W. Perkins with responsibility for bringing out the letter and declared Adams had personal knowledge that the "circulation of the attack" had been planned three weeks ago.

"As the descendant of nine generations of New England stock, and without a drop of German blood in my veins," the statement read, "I have not and could not have the slightest sympathy for any nation as against the United States or any nation with which the interests or welfare of the United States are allied."

Withdrawal Failed
With these developments it became known that repeated attempts had been made by various leaders to persuade Adams to withdraw. It was not the intention of the anti-Adams element to use the letter except as a last resort. Convinced, they said, that Adams would be unable to unite the party, the letter was brought out.

CATARH VANISHES

Use of the letter, these men pointed out, was justified by the fact that in the event of Adams' election, it might logically have become a potent weapon in the hands of the Democrats.

Adams' friends are exceedingly bitter over what they declare were unwarranted tactics. They reviewed Adams' record as proof that he had done more than the average American in support of the war and predicted that his friends in the party would rush to his defense. The letter, they said, was written with the object of urging upon this country strict observance of its neutrality.

The division of strength between Adams and Hays for the probable test before the committee was somewhat uncertain. The Adams men claimed that they would enter this afternoon's meeting assured of a sufficient number of votes to elect.

Hays' backers were increasingly confident.

EXPECT SETTLEMENT IN ARGENTINE STRIKE

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 12.—The nationwide strike was expected to be settled today. Refusal of British and Italian workers to join the movement, through belief it was instigated by German propaganda—is thought to have thwarted the strikers' plans.

The strike was called suddenly Saturday and was signalized by extreme violence. Railroad tracks were dynamited and many carloads of foodstuffs and munitions were burned. Meager dispatches—evidencing a heavy censorship—characterized the situation as "grave" and declared "drastic action" by the government was imminent.

The general strikes of several months ago were traced to German agents in Argentina. It is believed possible the present strike had the same origin—a fact that was recognized by the British and Italian workmen.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry will say that I am very much pleased with my investment in Palo Verde Valley. From the following you can readily see why I should be satisfied.

When I was in Kansas last fall I sold one of my farms which had been bringing me an annual cash rental of $2000. Out of this amount I had to pay taxes and up-keep. I have in the half section of Palo Verde Land which I bought through you about $10,000 less money invested than I had in the Kansas farm. My Palo Verde land is bringing me $7200 cash rent per year. Deducting a liberal amount for taxes and water assessments my net income will be $6000 per year from this investment; or just three times the gross income from the Kansas investment. The rent from the Palo Verde land is more than 14 per cent on the investment per annum.

I fully expect my Palo Verde holdings to double in value during the next five years; while the Kansas farm sold for a price which was all that I could have expected from it for years to come.

I can very conscientiously recommend Palo Verde land as a safe and very profitable investment.

Yours very truly,
ALFRED HAWKINSON.

See me about Palo Verde Land at once.
